

Riders of the Spew

Riders of the Spew God removed all the good people from Earth and transferred them to another place. The Devil spewed all the people in Hell to the vacated earth and went on vacation. Six couples team up in this action, demon filled novel of individuals from earth and other dimensions. Each chapter is filled with never ending adventure, more action and the will to survive. Butcher, Cowboy, Cotton, Stripper, Nightmare and Calusa were spewed from Hell to this vacant desolate wasteland in a group. They were doing fine until Boss Lady, one of the good people working for Michael the Archangel, showed up. She made a deal with the group to search the earth for certain people left behind. The six traveled in pairs, one woman and one man, to accomplish their mission. They encountered individuals, both good people and evil people, spewed from hell. They wanted nothing but to complete this mission and live in peace. However, in every town and alley they fought with demons, mutants and others who wanted nothing more than to remove their heads.
