

The goals you set for your mental development dramatically impact your ability to reach goals in other areas of your life. Studies are busting out all over indicating that nature may play a predominant role in influencing your future success in life than previously supposed. Some fifteen years earlier, researchers from around the world concluded that the left side of the brain controls logic and rational thinking, while the right side of the brain controls creative thinking. (Note: Left brain, right brain are metaphors. The brain's construction is actually more complex than a simple division into a left and a right side.) To function most effectively, the theorists say, you need to engage both halves of your brain.
