

The Surprise Millionaire Makes Four

Recently divorced, single mom, Taylor Baxter, desperately wants to reconnect with her two sons after a tumultuous past few months. A few weeks at a ranch in a small New Mexican town seems like the perfect opportunity to rebuild her family and put the pieces of their lives back together. When she meets Jesse Martinez, a ruggedly handsome ranch hand with a heart melting smile and an instant rapport with her boys, she experiences an awakening of romantic stirrings she had begun to doubt shed ever experience again. Can she summon the courage to once again open her heart to another man when the sting of her divorce feels so fresh? Still struggling with the guilt over a recent tragedy that ironically also changed his station in life, Jesse is immediately taken with not only Taylors sun-kissed natural beauty but her devotion to her children as well. The more time he spends with the visiting family the more hes reminded of the life hes always longed to have. But will he forgive himself for what happened one stormy anguish filled night so he can truly move on and make his dreams a reality?
