

Project Detour (Castle View Book 3)

Small town businesses, big life problems. Brad Castle had a plan for his life. A plan that crashed when a car accident stole his ability to do even the most basic tasks. On the verge of watching his Castle View Winery fail, he finally agrees to his moms badgering of hiring her assistant to help him recuperate. Every day is a struggle, but he wont let his business and everyone that depends on him down. Besides, he only needs her for six weeks. Destiny Brooks has bigger problems than a golden-boy who always had everything he wanted. Problems that included busting through the roadblocks in her path to open St. Josephs first Physical Therapy business. Even with his mothers constant matchmaking attempts, Destiny wont lose herself for the sake of a relationship, not again. Can Brad open himself up to the possibilities of a world beyond work before Destiny finishes her assignment and moves on?
